

NUTRITION RECOMMENDATIONS FOR PREMIUM CHICKENS

For Premium chickens, there are many different concepts affecting growth performance, many different target bodyweights and in some cases, limitations on the use of certain ingredients.

In addition, the choice of the breed best suited to meet these objectives is very important.

As a result, the optimum nutrient recommendations for Premium chickens need to be adapted to each specific case.

Further information adapted to your circumstances can be obtained by contacting Hubbard Nutrition Support at :

nutrition@hubbardbreeders.com

One of our experts will be happy to answer your question and provide you with personalised support.

